

Unity Christian School Teacher Bio

My name is Wendy Taylor. I have been teaching for 14 years, with the past 7 and ½ years being at Unity Christian School. God put the desire in my heart to work with children when I was only a child myself. I began working in my church nursery when I was only 12 and have been working with children in some capacity since then.

I am a 1996 graduate of Southern Arkansas University where I hold a Bachelor of Science degree in Education with a Mathematics specialization. I began my teaching career in a small Christian school in El Dorado, Arkansas. I taught there 3 years and loved it. I met my husband, a Texas native, and married in 2000. I left my job and taught at another Christian school in Arlington, Texas. I never thought I'd love a job like my first, but I did. I planned to teach in Texas forever, but God had other plans. My husband received a call to work as the Facilities Director at West Rome Baptist Church. We love Rome and are excited to call it home.

My husband and I have three babies (of the animal persuasion). We have two cocker spaniels named Duchess and Heiress, and a cat named C.C. which is short for Church Cat. We love to travel, with our favorite travel destinations being Disney World and the beach. I love to read. Sometimes in the summer I'll sit down to read a book and won't put it down until I'm finished. I also love to play sports, or did until I had back surgery; I think I'm retired now.

I look forward to another wonderful year at Unity. I look forward to building relationships with new students and growing ones already started.
