

Mitch Jolly is a native of Rome, GA. His wife is Jennifer, and they have three sons. Gabriel is 10. John Mark is 8, and Daniel is 6. Mitch is a graduate of Shorter College and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, TX. Mitch is also the Teaching Pastor of Three Rivers Community Church, as well as, Spiritual Life director at Unity Christian School. Mitch loves football, sports in general, camping, trekking, hanging out with his wife and sons and seeing students come to know Jesus Christ through the teaching of the Word and discipling people to grow in their knowledge of and love of Jesus Christ. Mitch loves to see Muslim Pashtun men in Afghanistan renounce Islam and follow Jesus Christ. Mitch believes the central aim of Scripture, and the central aim of God, is the worship of Jesus Christ through the salvation of people from every people group.
